

Claire's Fireside Reads

☐ Ex Libris

Anne Fadiman

(Farrar, Straus and Giroux) $12.00

Perfect essays on reading, marriage and marrying libraries, Arctic explorers, book lovers Carnal and Platonic, Lamb and Tolstoy and Keats and family antics. A must-read for every book lover.

☐ Poems and Prose

Gerard Manley Hopkins

(Penguin) $16.00

He was a Jesuit priest, but the poems get to the heart of things no matter what your beliefs. "Glory be to God for dappled things."

☐ The Isabel Dalhousie series

Alexander McCall Smith

(Anchor) $13.95 each

Perfect fireside light reading. The Scottish lady-philosopher is a muser and a bit of a busy-body: this leads to vague mysteries in Edinburgh coffee shops, with sprinklings of Auden and a charming supporting cast of gruff housekeepers and dashing musicians. Lovely little books.

☐ The Creators

Daniel J. Boorstin

(Vintage) $20.00

From the microscopic - Montaigne's grief at his friend's death, Monet painting Rouen Cathedral over and over again - to the grand macro-sweep of history from the Creation and World Religion through Joyce. Everything you want to know, in short, rich, stand-alone chapters.
